The Master Gardener Program

The Master Gardener Program provides intensive training in horticulture to interested gardeners who then volunteer their time assisting with educational programs and activities for Ohio residents through their Ohio State University County Extension Office.

Working with county Extension personnel, Master Gardeners provide such services to their communities as answering gardening questions, conducting plant clinics, working with youth or the elderly, beautifying the community, developing community or demonstration gardens, and other horticultural activities.

The Master Gardener Program began in Ohio nearly 20 years ago and is now active in more than 50 counties. The program is also conducted in nearly every state in the United States as well as in Canada.

You could be a Master Gardener if:

- ☞ You want to learn more about plants and gardening.
- ☞ You are eager to participate in a practical and intensive training program.
- ☞ You enjoy sharing your knowledge with others.
- ☞ You have the time to attend training and serve your community as a volunteer educator.
